Born to the wife of S. R. Foley, the Hackley merchant, on Thursday night, a nine pound girl.

Bowman's show at the Court house next Wednesday night will be well attended. Don't miss it.

Mr. W. A. Burton of Buckeye, Ky. is very sick. His son Mr. W. B. Burton has been at his bedside for several days.

A six months old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Arnold Jr. died at their home on the Danville pike Saturday and its remains were interred in the Lancaster cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Ten applicants took the examination for common school diplomas before the County Board of Examiners in Superintendent Jennie Higgin's office Friday. Five of them were white and five colored.

Hon. Ruby Laffoon candidate for the democratic nomination for State Attorney was in town Wednesday mulling with friends. Mr. Laffoon is very popular over the state having led the ticket in the last gubernatorial election at which time he was a candidate for State Treasurer.

"Aunt" Sally Denney, a highly respected colored woman, died at her home on the Stanford pike on January 14th, aged seventy-three years. Formerly she was the slave of Joseph Burnside, of Garrard county. She was a worthy woman and had many friends among the white people. - Danville Advocate.

There has been no change in the last week in the tobacco situation, with the exception of the fact that in many counties considerable activity is being displayed among the farmers opposed to the cut-out, taking the form of public meetings, petitions, and in fact pursuing about the same line of action as the advocates of "no-crop."

Mr. John N. Ross who resides on the Stanford pike in the White Oak neighborhood has purchased of Mr. J. P. Prather his grocery and meat market on the public square and will take possession in about ten days. Mr. Ross will move to town and will occupy the residence of Mr. Prather on Stanford street, which he also purchased, together with the stock yards property for $2,500.

Aged Lady Dead.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hoskins, aged 85 years the mother of Mrs. C. B. Flanery, who resides near Hyattsville, died on Tuesday of the infirmities of old age. Her remains were taken to Berea for interment on Wednesday.

No night-riders in Garrard.

The tobacco barn belonging to Mr. W. V. Gastineau, the burning of which is mentioned in another column, was only a few hundred yards from the railroad, and as many tramps have been annoying the people of the vicinity of late, the theory that the barn was accidentally fired by tramps is generally accepted. The reports sent out that night riders were the cause of the burning is erroneous. There never was, is not at present, and we hope and believe there will never be any night riders in Garrard county.

Mrs. Bell dead.

The many friends of Mrs. Elizabeth Young Bell will be grieved to hear of her death which occurred at her home in Harrodsburg Tuesday morning as a result of injuries received in a street car accident in Seattle, Wash., in April last. Judge W. Con Bell her husband was killed in the wreck at the time Mrs. Bell was injured.

Mrs. Bell was well known here where she was very popular. When Judge Bell was on the bench she frequently came over and remained with him during the entire term of the Garrard Circuit Court.

Shugars.

A telegram was received here Tuesday announcing the sudden death of a former young man of this community, O. W. Shugars, now of Indianapolis. The deceased was about 35 years of age and had been residing in Indianapolis about 5 years where he was engaged in the insurance business. "Ode" as he was familiarly known here was a favorite being very affable in manner. He was the second son of Judge William Shugars and besides the aged father leaves one brother W. K. Shugars, and four sisters. The remains were brought here for interment. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved family.

Big Crop of Tobacco Burned.

On the night of January 26th a large tobacco barn on what is known as the Squire Schooler farm on Back Creek in this county, belonging to Mr. W. V. Gastineau was destroyed by fire. The barn contained 14,000 pounds of tobacco, bulked, stripped and ready for market, all of which was destroyed. The tobacco belonged to Mr. Gastineau and his tenants, A. I. McGuire, Geo. Lear and Will and Wade Kavanaugh, and was an exceptionally fine crop. The supposition is that the barn caught fire by tramps smoking in it, as there had been no fire in the stripping room for several days. Mr. Gastineau was in Lexington at the time of the fire arranging for the sale of his crop. He had insurance on the barn to the amount of $600 and $1,300 on the crop. Mr. Gastineau sustained a considerable loss as the barn cost him about $1,000 and he expected to realize at least 12 cents for the tobacco.

Attempt To Secure The Body Of George B. Saulley

Ghouls attempted to snatch the body of George B. Saulley on Monday night from the Buffalo cemetery in Stanford. They removed the earth from the grave down to the wooden box which encased the coffin, but were scared away, supposedly by the barking of dogs and the moving of a light in neighboring houses. Scavenger points to a Mrs. Harrison who bought a spade at a local store Tuesday afternoon, and whose actions were peculiar, and who did not give a satisfactory explanation of her actions on the night in question to detectives who interrogated her. A warrant was sworn out for her arrest, but she has not yet been apprehended.

George B. Saulley was a prominent young attorney at the Stanford bar, and was a son of the late Judge M. C. Saulley. He died in March 1910 of typhoid fever.

Gwyn.

The remains of Harriett Norris Gwyn were laid to rest in the Lancaster Cemetery on Sunday January 28th. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Frierson at Old Paint Lick Presbyterian church of which the deceased had been a faithful and consistent member since early childhood.

Mrs. Gwyn before her marriage was a Miss Mitchell the daughter of William and Sallie Mitchell. On her maternal side she was related to the illustrious Leavel family, her mother was a sister of John Y. Leavel deceased, she was a first cousin of Lewis Y. Leavel, Mesdames Dorcas L. Walker and J. A. Doty, all of whom have preceded her in death. Mr. and Mrs. Gwyn had only one child Walker, who with his family live in this county. The deceased spent all of her life in and near Paint Lick. She was a kind and affectionate wife and mother and ever ready to help one in distress, and the applaud it "Well done Good and faithful servant enter in to thy rest", will be hers for ever.

Mr. Josephs Death.

The sad intelligence of the death of Mr. Jacob Joseph brought sorrow to the hearts of Garrard county people on Saturday morning. He passed peacefully away at 12:30 o'clock Saturday morning at his home on Danville street in this city, surrounded by his sorrowing family and friends.

Mr. Joseph has been in failing health for several months, but with that energy for which he was noted, he persisted in being up and around and was on the streets as late as Thursday. Heart failure was the immediate cause of his death.

Mr. Joseph came to this county from Prussia, where he was born in 1853, and to Lancaster in 1880, where he embarked in the mercantile business. With the exception of one year he has been a resident of Lancaster since that time, and by his honesty and fair dealing has won a place in the hearts of Garrard county people which is accorded to few men. Mr. Joseph married Miss Elizabeth Fox of Eaton O., and as a result of that union were born Mrs. Charles Davis of Chattanooga Tenn. Adolph Joseph of Peru Ind. and Arthur Joseph of this place, all of whom with one brother and two sisters, Mr. Sam Joseph and Mrs. Dora Budweski of Cincinnati and Mrs. Celia Levisohn of New York, survive him.

No citizen has been taken from the community in recent years who will be more sadly missed than Mr. Joseph. He was a loving and devoted husband and father, a kind and true friend and an upright and conscientious citizen, especially will he be missed by the various lodges with which he was affiliated. He had reached the highest honors attainable in the local Masonic, K of P and Odd Fellows lodges, and in each of them he had his special work to perform, in which he was almost indispensable. All members feeling that their lodge work was lacking unless Brother Joseph was present to assist. Kind, charitable, always willing to lend a helping hand to those sick or in distress, regardless of color, class condition. No person was sick in the community that he did not call to tender his sympathy and assistance, often times going for miles in the country to visit a sick or distressed friend. Jewish by birth and faith, he was exemplary in his religion, yet thoroughly tolerant of others in their religious as well as all other views.

He was unselfishly devoted to the interests of his home town, its educational institution being his especial pride. He had served many times as a member of the school board. He had also served several times as a member of the City council.

His remains were escorted to the early morning train Monday, members of the Masonic fraternity acting as pall bearers, deputations from the Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows lodges accompanying them. The family was accompanied to Cincinnati by a number of friends, where on Monday afternoon all that was mortal of Jacob Joseph was laid to rest in the Jewish Cemetery on Walnut Hills.

"Uncle Tram" Conn Dead.

After a short illness of pneumonia Mr. J. T. Conn breathed his last on Saturday night at his home in Wilmore Ky. Mr. Conn, had lived until next March, would have reached the ripe old age of 89 years.

The following children survive him, Messrs. James, John, Thomas and Fred of this county, Mrs. Scott, of Texas, William and Miss Virginia, who lived with him, Tram Conn of Oklahoma, George Y. of San Diego, Cal., and Lieut. Ed. Conn of the Philippine Constabulary, Luzon P. I. Until a year ago Mr. Conn lived in this county, but sold his farm on the Richmond pike near town and removed to Wilmore where he purchased a farm, however he still called Garrard county his home.

"Uncle Tram", as he was familiarly known was one of Garrard's oldest and best citizens and his removal to another county was greatly regretted by his friends and neighbors.

He had long been a faithful attendant at the Methodist church where funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Clark, of Wilmore, assisted by Rev. C. C. Brown after which the remains were interred in the Lancaster cemetery.
